

ISAAC R. HILL SINKING SLOWLY IN WASHINGTON

WIDELY KNOWN POLITICIAN CAN LIVE BUT SHORT TIME, SAY
THE DOCTORS.

BORN IN LICKING COUNTY

In Politics 55 Years—Ran For Office
Once Yet Held One Office Thirty Years in Capital.

Washington, Dec. 24.—(2 p. m.)—Isaac R. Hill is slowly sinking this afternoon. There is no hope for his recovery. Dr. Richard Kingsman, his physician, says death may come at any time, but the patient is hardly expected to survive the day and night. James J. Hill is here from Johnston, Ohio, having been summoned to his uncle's bedside.

CLOTS have formed on the arteries of the sick man's legs and circulation in his extremities has practically ceased. Gangrene has also set in, and the patient is fast losing what little vitality remains. He was delicious all day Saturday and Sunday.

Colonel Hill was taken sick nearly a fortnight ago with kidney and heart trouble. The doctor did not hold out hope of his final recovery because of his advanced years, but told Mrs. Hill that he might get her husband on his feet again unless the complications which arose Saturday made their appearance.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Colonel Isaac R. Hill, of Newark, Ohio, is beyond all hope of his physician and his death is now measured by the hours. For hours he has been in a state of coma, and there is no further aid medical science can offer.

Colonel Hill has been a unique figure in politics for two decades. Always a staunch Democrat, he associated himself with its party history, more especially in his home state. For years his peculiar personality of form and vernacular have impressed the delegates to nearly every party convention, both national and state. He came to Washington originally when John D. Thompson, of Columbus, was made sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives and has been attached in some capacity to the lower branch of Congress ever since. He has seen speaker after speaker come and go, and nearly every speaker under whom he has served is dead. General Keifer is the oldest speaker living, and Hill served under him 28 years ago. Later he served under Carlisle, and years before he served under Blaine.

Of late Colonel Hill has been in failing health. He kept up well during the late long session, but gave evidence of failing powers.

Isaac R. Hill was born in Monroe township, Licking county, September 17, 1831, and during his entire life called Licking county his home. He was of Scotch-Irish extraction and both his maternal and paternal grandfathers fought in the battle of Bunker Hill. His grandfather Hill was on the American side under Warren. His grandfather Pike was at first a non-commissioned officer with the British, but afterwards deserted and joined the American army under Washington.

At the time when Isaac Hill's father took a half section of land in the woods of Monroe township, the father of Mary L. Willison took the adjoining half-section. When the girl and boy grew to maturity their childish comradeship had ripened into love and in 1855 they were married. No children were ever born to them.

Though Isaac Hill, from the age of 20, was always in politics, yet he never ran for office but once, and then failed of election. This was in 1870 when there were ten candidates for the office of sheriff. "Ike Hill" stood next to the top of the list, but was beaten by Edward Williams.

In 1875 he went to Washington as the deputy of the late John G. Thompson of Columbus, who was at that time elected sergeant-at-arms of the 44th Congress, and not only served as deputy during the six years of Thompson's office, but has been deputy sergeant-at-arms during every session of Congress since that time, under Leedom, Snow and Yoder. He was known as the "Democratic whip." He always kept his residence in Newark and almost always came back to vote at the elections. He never missed voting at a general election but once after he cast his first vote for Franklin Pierce, and that was in 1872, when Horace Greeley was a candidate and Hill was 1390 miles away from the polls.

Many are the stories that have been printed about "Ike" Hill. In fact, so constantly has he been in the (Continued on Page 8, 2d Col.)

MARTIAL LAW NOT NEEDED

Result of Atlanta's Riots—Citizens
Denounce Papers for Printing
Extra Editions.

(Bulletin.)

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—At an early hour this morning a mob of 200 men stormed the jail at East Point, a suburb five miles from Atlanta, took out a negro named Zeb Long, who had been arrested Sunday for carrying a loaded gun, and strung him to a telegraph pole, and shot him to death. Long had resisted arrest and had been parading the streets with a gun. In the city, troops, seventeen companies of which are on duty, are in full control and everything is quiet today.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—As a result of the race war in Atlanta at least 10 lives were sacrificed and the number of injured will be not less than 40, several of whom can not recover. The city is controlled by the police aided by nearly 1,000 militiamen. Every part of the town is patrolled by the soldiers, and the authorities seem to have the situation well in hand. Governor Terrell, who ordered seven companies of the state militia from points outside of Atlanta to aid the eight local companies, stands ready to declare the city under martial law if the disturbances are repeated.

More than 50 arrests of members of the mob have been made. No names of prominence are found on the list. Only partial lists of the dead have been prepared and no two agree.

The riots were the result of numerous assaults or attempted assaults on white women by negroes. An even dozen of such assaults within Fulton county during the last nine weeks occurred Saturday, when four attempts at assault were reported. Flaming headlines in special editions of newspapers wrought the populace to a high pitch of excitement. The usual Saturday night crowds were largely increased by men and boys who thronged the downtown streets. There was no leader and no overt act until about 10 o'clock, when a negro shoved a white woman from the sidewalk on Whitehall street, in the center of the town. Almost simultaneously a negro woman made an insulting remark to a white man on an adjoining street, and he administered what he considered due punishment. From this start the excited crowd began its work of destruction, and 5,000 men and boys thronged the downtown streets looking for negroes. News that a riot had started brought thousands more from their homes in the suburbs and residence districts, until finally 10,000 men thronged the downtown section. They made attacks on the incoming streetcars. Each car was scanned for negroes. The trolleys were pulled from the wires and in the semi-darkness of the unlighted cars negroes were beaten. If a negro ventured resistance or remonstrated it meant practically sure death. One car half filled with negroes approached from an outside run. The mob dashed for the car. Resistance was made by the negroes, who were not aware of the trouble. Three negroes lay dead on the floor of the car when it was permitted to move on and two more were beaten into unconsciousness.

When the crowd seemed to be getting beyond control Mayor Woodward mounted a car platform and urged the crowd to disperse, declaring that the assaults on the white women would be adequately and promptly punished by due process of law. Mayor Woodward was given a respectful hearing, but when he finished the work of destruction was resumed. He made another appeal a few moments later, but without result. Then he turned in a general fire alarm, calling the entire department to the scene. To Chief Joyner he gave the laconic order, "Clear the streets." The result was to stop the mob in its work in that immediate section and to drive it to other streets. Governor Terrell was appealed to and he ordered out the state troops.

Mayor Woodward issued a request that all citizens, white and black, remain off the streets at night, and all boys under 21 were ordered to keep off the streets.

A meeting of bankers and business and professional men, representing the best element of Atlanta's citizenship, was held to consider the present emergency. Governor Terrell, Mayor Woodward and others to the number of 300 were present. Speeches were made and warmly applauded in which the killing of 10 negroes and the wounding of a score or more whites and blacks were condemned as a re-fection on the spirit of the city, the state and the south. The heralding of recent assaults on white women by negroes with flaming headlines in the extras of local papers was condemned in measured terms, and the request was made that hereafter no special editions covering these topics be issued. Such "inflammatory headlines" were declared to have been the direct incitement to the outrages. Resolutions were adopted urging the city council to enact ordinances closing low negro dives, in which, it was declared, much of the crime among the negro classes has its origin. Closer restriction of saloons for both whites and blacks was demanded of the city authorities.

EDITOR GRAVES ISSUES STATEMENT TO PRESS OF NORTH

Atlanta, Sept. 24.—John Temple Graves, the brilliant editor and orator, today issued a signed statement addressed to the press of the North on the Atlanta race riots and its causes which reads in part: "The Atlanta race riot is due to the cumulative provocation of a series of assaults by negroes upon white women, which, in number, in atrocity, and in speakable audacity, are without parallel in the history of crime among southern negroes. There have been eleven assaults, or attempted assaults within the past seven weeks. Of these fiends, only four were apprehended, and seven escaped free. "It has been a reign of terror for our Georgia women. They have been trembling prisoners in their homes, and their husbands, sons and brothers held in necessity of guarding them unceasingly. "Men do not dare leave their families after nightfall. Whole sections have been in a state of siege and the apprehension is growing more and more intolerable. "The horror of Saturday has doubtless left a blot on our civilization, but it will clear the atmosphere and keep the negro in order for the next five years. The present riot has ended. The city is quiet today and the military are on guard. The negroes are whipped and humbled and no danger is apprehended. But trouble is likely to be repeated with another wave of crime next summer. "How can you help us? By giving two paragraphs to the denunciation of criminal assault where you give one to lynching. What is the ultimate end?

JAMES M. ADAMS, MAYOR OF BUFFALO

The separation of races is the only possible logical, inevitable solution. These two opposite antagonistic races can never live together in the same government under equal laws never. "Help us to separate."

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—(Bulletin.)—With one thousand militiamen and with a field battery in reserve, occupying Atlanta, the city is much more quiet today. It is by no means certain that the rioting growing out of the race war is over, but it is not likely there will be a renewal of the outbreaks before night at least. Gov. Terrell has declined to declare martial law for the present. He promised citizens, however, if there is a renewal of the fighting he will proclaim military law and see that it is strictly enforced.

HIGGINS WILL NOT MAKE RACE

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Governor Higgins has declined the nomination for governor. Despite the almost frantic appeals of his friends and members of the "Kitchen Cabinet," who pleaded with him to again head the ticket, Governor Higgins, shortly before noon today telephoned his friends here that he did not see his way clear to make the contest.

Dayton, O., Sept. 24.—Ex-Governor Campbell has decided to accept the tender of the nomination for Congress in this district, according to word received here from Hamilton by local Democratic leaders.

The situation in the district is peculiar. Congressman Bob Nevin of this city, was nominated by the Republicans for another term, but declined because his son-in-law is a candidate for a local office on the

pressed That Forces May Clash
There Soon.

Havana, Sept. 24.—While the "talk" in Cuba is all for peace the preparations on all sides for warfare are more active than at any time since the arrival of the American commissioners. It is generally conceded that the action of the government in bringing Colonel Avalosmen to Guanajay may precipitate a battle at any moment. The only interpretation put on this movement is that the government wished to cause trouble which would force active intervention by the United States. Preparations have been made by the insurgents to meet any movement by the loyalists as they do not propose to allow the government forces to hem them in. The greatest activity is being shown about the American war ships in the harbor. Tents, food, provisions and ammunition have been a and everything is in readiness to land blue jackets and marines within ten minutes if necessity arises. Fighting between the rebels and government forces will be the signal for landing men from the warships. The situation is undoubtedly critical. Only the coolness of the insurgent generals Guerra and Castillo, prevented a battle yesterday. When Avalos brought his men almost in contact with Guerra's army and prepared to march directly through the insurgent's forces toward Havana, many insurgents were wild to attack the loyalists. Had Avalos persisted in marching past Guerra's men it is almost certain there would have been a fight. Avalos finally heeded Guerra's warning that a conflict must follow any such effort on his part and Avalos halted. Secretary Taft took the government authorities to task for what he called a violation of the truce agreed upon and Avalos was commanded not to come nearer to Havana. The alarm has not subsided however. It is believed that the government rather than see the insurgents victorious in the peace negotiations, will do something to provoke armed intervention. With Avalos men remaining at Guanajay, a battle can easily be precipitated at any moment. If the government sees the rebels winning with the peace commissioners and perhaps the establishing of a suzerainty over the island by President Roosevelt.

PROSPECT FOR PEACE.
Havana, Sept. 24.—Secretary Taft enters the last stage of the negotiations by a conference with the representatives of the government and the revolutionists. Every possible effort will be made to reach some sort of a compromise. Taft is said to share the general opinion that it is not possible for peace to last, but is anxious that the Cubans shall have another chance. Few people believe the next revolution will be postponed for a year if America remains now from intervention. Business interests insist if America does not establish a provisional government it must leave a section of the army here to insure peace. The fleet is prepared to land 10,000 men in 90 minutes.

PEACE HOVERS OVER ANTILLES

Secretary Taft May be Able to Restore Order Without U. S.
Intervention.

Havana, Sept. 24.—Peace hovers over the "Pearl of the Antilles" as a result of Secretary Taft's negotiations and intervention by the United States may be averted after all. It is known that Secretary Taft is authorized to exercise his own judgment in all matters pertaining to the negotiations, and that the squadron with its entire force is under his immediate control. Concerning the reported preparations Saturday night for the transportation of marines and bluejackets by rail to Camp Columbia, Secretary Taft said: "The United States forces are under my orders. I have given no order for them to land, and not a man shall land until I give such an order." All classes are waiting for the announcement of the conditions under which tranquillity likely will be restored in Cuba, and keen interest is

THREE ARE KILLED HALF DOZEN HURT IN SUNDAY WRECK

ACCIDENT OCCURRED 9 MILES
FROM ZANESVILLE ON C. &
M. V. ROAD.

PATHETIC FEATURE OF WRECK

Developed in Hospital When Injured
Man Insisted Upon Seeing His Dead Boy.

Zanesville, O., Sept. 24.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley railroad occurred at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon when a freight train and work train collided at Rock cut, nine miles above this city, killing three men, injuring a half dozen others and destroying property valued at several thousand dollars.

The Dead.

Edward Kinnen, engineer of Lancaster, aged 29 years, and married.

Jesse McVey, a section hand of Bremen, O.

David Rushing, 15 years old, water carrier for the work train, home in Roseville, O.

The Injured.

James Rushing, section hand of Roseville, head cut.

Frank Black, Lancaster, ribs fractured and injured internally; condition serious.

John Raviner, fireman, of South Carey, O., arm and leg broken.

Ed Conners, Lancaster, cut on head and neck.

Charles Love, Lancaster, injured internally, supposed to be dying at the Good Samaritan hospital in this city.

All were brought to this city.

A pathetic feature of the wreck developed at the hospital, where it was learned that one of the seriously injured, James Rushing, was the father of David Rushing, the 15 year old water carrier of the work train, who was killed. The senior Rushing sustained a badly battered head, but as soon as his injuries were dressed he became so insistent on leaving the hospital that consent was finally given and he was brought to the undertaking establishment, where the body of his son was being prepared.

Every effort was made by him to have the body of his boy and himself taken home to Roseville, but the physicians would not allow him to go and the injured father kept a sleepless vigil beside the body of his dead boy last night.

Engineer Kinnen had recently been promoted to a passenger run and was only working extra Sunday.

The work train and a coal train were ordered to take the same siding at Rock cut to allow a passenger train to pass. The crew on the work train did not know of the coal train being on the road, and backed into the siding and plunged into the switch at the opposite end.

The engine of the work train was coming backwards, pushing a caboose and drawing a number of cars.

TWO KILLED, THREE HURT.

Canlon, O., Sept. 24.—Two foreigners were killed and three men badly injured late Sunday afternoon, as a bridge construction train on the Lake Erie, Alliance and Wheeling railroad going north was derailed going around a curve near Mechanicsstown. The caboose toppled over an embankment. At a late hour the dead foreigners had not been identified.

The injured are: Brakeman W. J. Rodv and M. L. Sullivan of Alliance and Bridge Contractor S. W. Shepard of Augusta.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL CHURCH TO BE CONSECRATED OCT. 16-17

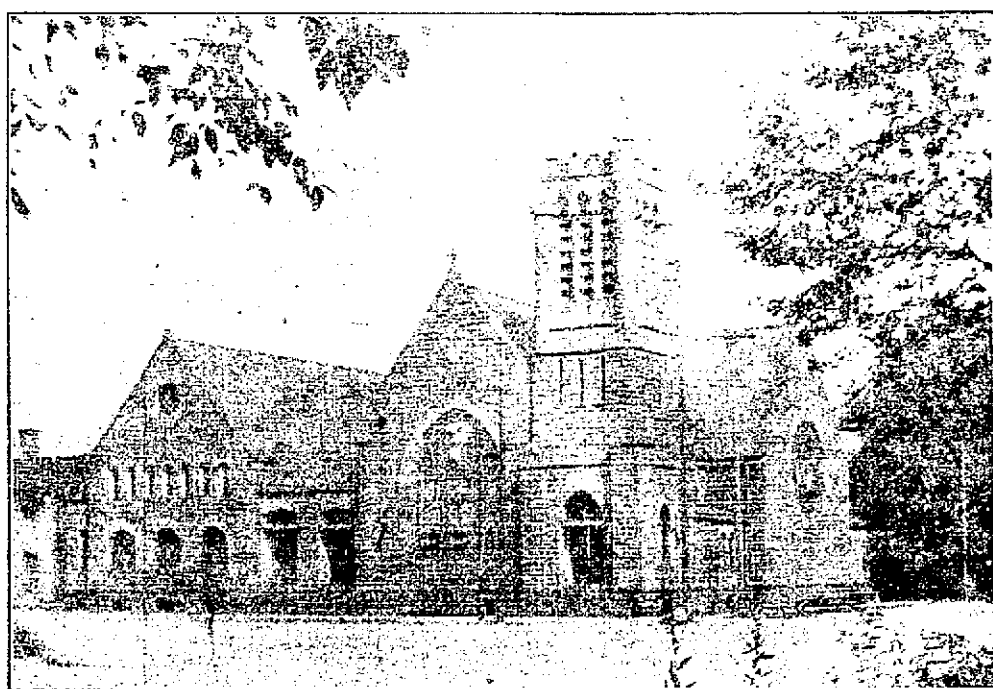

On Tuesday and Wednesday, October 16 and 17, one of the most important events in the history of the Trinity church.

REV. L. P. FRANKLIN.

this city, will be held, being the consecration of the church. On these dates the Columbus Convocation and the Women's Auxiliary Convocation, will be held in the Parish house.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 16, there will be a paper read by Dr. A. Wood, pastor of Trinity church, Columbus, and on Tuesday evening the services will begin with a festival service, at which it is expected that the Rev. Wilson R. Stearly, Rector of Emanuel church, Cleveland, will be present and conduct the services.

The services on Wednesday will begin with an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 7 o'clock. At 10:30 o'clock the Consecration service will be held with Bishop Boyd Vincent of Cincinnati, who will preach the consecration sermon at 10:30 o'clock.

On Wednesday evening, October 17, there will be a show chorus service, followed by a Jubilee Cantata, at which special music will be furnished, as there will for all the services.

The reason that the consecration of the church has not been held before is that a debt of about $7,000 has been hanging over the church, and now that this debt has been lifted, the consecration will be held.

The official program of the services to be held on this occasion will be published in a few days.

BADLY MIXED IN NEW YORK

Both Political Conventions Will Be Held the Same Day.

RIVALRIES OF THE FACTIONS

Friends of Governor Higgins Want Him to Stand For Renomination and Make the Campaign on His Record—Hearst, Jerome and Sulzer in the Democratic Contest.

New York, Sept. 24.—In all the complexities of the Empire State's political history, there never was a more mixed state of affairs than that created by the rivalries of factions which will come together in state conventions to be held by the Republicans at Saratoga and by the Democrats at Buffalo at the same time, beginning Tuesday.

Both Republican and Democratic parties are torn with factional disputes. With these internal dissensions afflicting the old parties, a third political party was launched under the title of the Independence league. This league, which completed its organization in every county of the state, is the outgrowth of the Municipal Ownership league, which made the mayoralty fight in New York city last November with William R. Hearst at the head of the ticket.

Former Governor B. B. Odell, Jr., as state chairman, will call the Republican convention to order. Cord Meyer of New York is the chairman of the Democratic state committee.

In the Republican ranks the main question is whether Governor Higgins desires a renomination. It is generally believed, since last Tuesday's primaries, in which former Governor Odell lost control of the party, that Governor Higgins can have a renomination if he wants it.

Popular opinion arrays State Chairman Odell against Governor Frank W. Higgins in the struggle for control of the Saratoga convention and of the Republican party in this state. Two years ago Odell and Higgins were quite intimate. It was not long after Governor Higgins was inaugurated that there came rumors of differences between the governor and Odell. There was no open breach, however, until the fight last winter for the assembly speakership.

During the speakership fight a number of the legislative leaders were

Charles E. Hughes, the lawyer who was nominated for mayor of New York city last fall by the Republicans, but declined the honor. Secretary of State Elihu Root was suggested by Odell. One of the latest to be proposed is Postmaster General George B. Cortelyou, who is also chairman of the Republican national committee.

There is a well-founded belief that President Roosevelt is lending his implied influence to Governor Higgins for the purpose of helping him gain control of the state convention. Then it is intimated that the governor will withdraw and himself nominate his successor, who will be a man believed to be capable of drawing the votes of both factions of the party and will also be cordially approved by President Roosevelt. Governor Higgins is being urged to stand for a renomination and go before the state on his record as governor.

Interest in the Democratic gathering is centered in the movement on the part of a number of delegates to demand the nomination of William R. Hearst for governor. So far it is not known what the New York county delegation, 105 strong, will do in this respect, as Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, declined to indicate whether he favors Hearst.

The Democratic convention promises to be one of the liveliest ever held in this state. Hearst's name will be placed before it by delegates instructed to vote for his nomination. Hearst is likely to be attacked by his opponents on the ground that he is the head of an "outlaw" ticket and that he can not be named or endorsed without turning the Democratic party over to the newly organized Independence league, which includes both Democrats and Republicans in its membership. The naming of a complete ticket by the Independence league caused Norman E. Mack, Democratic national committeeman for New York state, to withdraw his support from Hearst. He explained that he favored Hearst as a Democrat, but not as an independent candidate.

Another name to go before the Democratic convention is that of the district attorney of New York county, William Travers Jerome, who ran independently last fall and was elected over the regular nominees of the Democratic, Republican and Municipal Ownership parties. He has always been a Democrat, but on every occasion expressed his abhorrence of so-called political "bosses." Mayor G. B. McClellan of New York city expressed his preference for Jerome for governor and announced his intention of voting for him at the convention.

If the so-called "regular" Democrats prove unwilling to accept either Hearst or Jerome because of their independent attitudes in the past, there is much speculation as to who they will bring before the convention. There has been talk of Mayor J. N. Adam of Buffalo, John P. Stanchfield of Elmira, former judge D. Cady Herick, who was the Democratic gubernatorial candidate two years ago, and Justice William J. Gaynor of Brooklyn. Justice Gaynor has been urged because of his independence. He and Hearst are political friends, and last fall it was said Hearst ran for mayor only because he was unable to induce Gaynor to take up the fight.

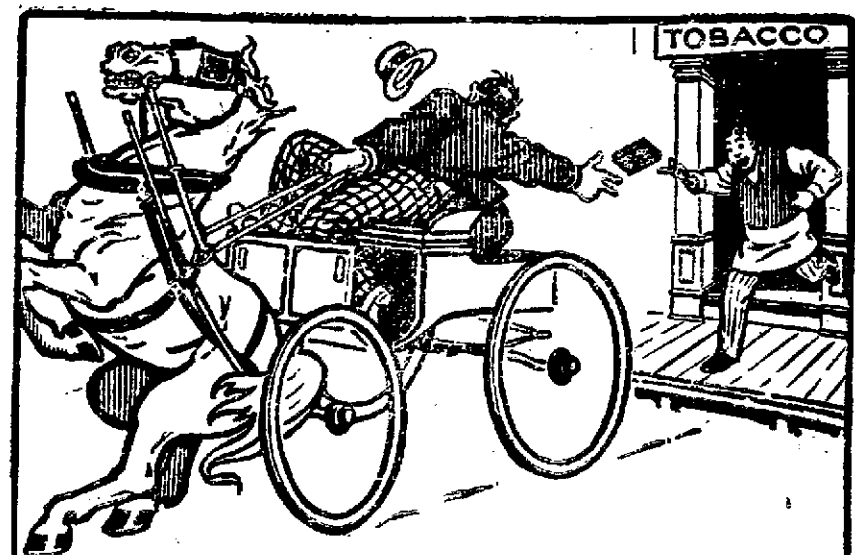

Within the past week there was quite a movement in favor of the nomination of Congressman William Sulzer, whose name will be presented to the convention by his friends in Tammany Hall. Timothy D. Sullivan is said to favor his nomination.

Congressman Sulzer said concerning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination: "My friends feel confident of my nomination for governor, but I have no puffed-up vanity in the matter. I want to do my best to bring about Democratic unity and harmony and the success of my party in the interest of better state government for all the people. If the convention nominates me I shall accept and carry the standard to the best of my ability. If it selects another man I will support him loyally and enthusiastically."

Tammany has felt the dissensions that affect the party in general. There are evidences of greater factional troubles inside the wigwam than ever before in its history. Charles F. Murphy, the present leader of Tammany Hall, and Mayor McClellan have generally been regarded as heading the opposing forces in the organization. Murphy is said to favor the nomination of Hearst, but Hearst in a public statement declared he did not want Murphy's support.

The Democrats were first to choose a convention date. The Republicans apparently were undecided as to whether they should meet before or after the Democrats. Chairman Odell called the state committee together soon after the Democrats announced their decision and it was decided to meet simultaneously with the Democrats. It was argued that if the Democrats met first they would place the Republican administration on the defensive, whereas if the Republicans met first the Democrats would be in a position to attack the platform in convention and get a good supply of ammunition before the public through the medium of convention addresses.

Fugitive Captured. Lexington, Ky., Sept. 24.—Grant Waters, wanted at Huntington, W. Va., for the alleged murder of William Crocker in August, 1905, was arrested here. He was located after applying at the city hall for a transfer of a saloon license. Waters admits that he was in the general fight when Crocker was killed, but says he is not guilty of using a knife. A reward of $200 offered by the state officials will be claimed by Chief of Detectives Brown, who located the fugitive.

LEROY ROBINSON.

Mr. Leroy Robinson, an old and highly respected resident of this city, died at his home, 721 West Main street, Saturday evening at 7:20, at the advanced age of 83 years.

The deceased was born near Brownsville, Licking county, August 13, 1823, where he spent his boyhood days. In 1846 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Sain. From this union nine children were born, two of whom are dead. The surviving children are, Mrs. J. A. Starkey of Beve, Mo.; Mrs. H. Day of Newark, F. F. Robinson of Granville, Mrs. D. S. Porter of Columbus, Mrs. Attai M. Smith of Newark, Mrs. Levi Cook of Gratiot and Chas. G. Robinson of Newark.

The deceased moved to Muskingum county 44 years ago, where he lived on the Floral Valley stock farm until his removal to Newark in 1894, where he has lived ever since. He had been prominently connected with church work all his life, until his removal to Newark, but has been identified with the First M. E. church here. He numbered among his friends many ministers of the Ohio Conference, who made his home their headquarters when in this vicinity. He was one of the founders of the Gratiot Farmers' Club 20 years ago and was active in its work during that time, much of its success being due to his efforts. He had always been a hearty and rugged man until April of 1906, when he sustained a stroke of apoplexy. Since then he had gradually declined and last week sustained another stroke. The funeral services will be held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, standard time, and the interment will be made in the Poplar Fork cemetery, near Gratiot, Rev. I. F. King of Columbus, officiating.

MRS. N. C. HOLLAR.

Mrs. N. C. Hollar died Sunday at 4:15 a. m. at her home in Cherry Valley, after an illness of a number of years. Mrs. Hollar was aged 63 years, 5 months and 28 days, was one of the best-known residents of Cherry Valley. Beside a devoted husband, there remains one daughter, Miss Emma, one brother, James Canedy of this city, and a large circle of friends and acquaintances who mourn her death.

The funeral will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph L. Bennett at 1:30 Tuesday. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

MRS. NANCY THRALL.

Mrs. Nancy Thrall was born in Washington county, Pa., January 10, 1832, and died September 22, 1906, at the age of 74 years. Early in life she acknowledged Christ as her Savior, uniting with the United Brethren church. Later she became a member of the Baptist church. Upon her removal from Council Bluffs, Ia., to Granville, O., she transferred her membership to the Baptist church of Granville, where she continued a member until her death. The deep-felt loss occasioned by her death is mourned by a son, Irving Winter, and a daughter, Lilly Zella, also one brother and three sisters.

Such is the brief record from the cradle to the grave. Her life work is now done, her record is on high. We can only add the inspired words, "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord."

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From This Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but certain fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the patient has to be relieved by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

Miss Luella Adams, of Seattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt who had been cured by the use of Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and as it was said to cure tumors I did so and immediately began to improve in health and was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely without an operation. I was every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability or nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address: Lynn, Mass.

NARROW ESCAPE

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 24.—The 52 members of an amusement company en route from Fort Wayne to Marion, Ind., had a narrow escape from death near here. They were in a special car, which left the track and was held suspended over a deep ditch. Of the 15 persons injured none were seriously hurt. The coach was partly held to its perilous position by a telegraph pole. All the windows and doors were destroyed. Had the coach not been held by the telegraph pole it is thought there would have been large loss of life, as the car would have fallen 30 feet or more.

"The Republicans failing to nominate a candidate known to stand for high moral ideas, can expect little else, than defeat at the polls this fall. The promise to secure appropriations for a few public buildings will not bolster up the intemperance and immorality of any candidate."—Wooster Herald.

The American-Tribune is desperately trying to palm itself off as a champion of the temperance women of Licking county in efforts to excite their opposition to Mr. Ashbrook, the Democratic candidate for Congress. Now, if the A.-T. will just persuade the estimable temperance women of Licking county to write to the well known temperance women of Wayne county and procure from them any good, moral reasons for casting their influence in behalf of the Hon. M. L. Smyser, and then if the A.-T. will print those reasons, there will be a wonderful enlightenment on the unsettled question as to the standard of temperance and morality of the Republican candidate. The A.-T. and all the other Republican organs of the district have been called upon by a paper printed close to his home to tell the people how Smyser "puts liquor down," and none of them have done it. Why not let the people know.

It is surely fortunate for a number of Republican Congressmen who are seeking re-election, that President Roosevelt will not deliver his message to Congress until after election day.

Carmi A. Thompson, faithful servant of the Republican machine during the session of the legislature, serving it well "as speaker of the House, and now the machine candidate for secretary of state, says that he is not afraid of Democratic attack upon his record as speaker. When Myron T. Herriek had been renominated in face of the the strongest protest against bosses and bossism in his party he affected a degree of courage, much the same as Thompson now affects. Herriek thought he wasn't afraid of any attacks on his record in office, but he very soon changed his opinion, speaking in a way to show that he felt the attacks. Begging for sympathy became characteristic of machine speeches. Carmi Thompson will talk differently before the ballots are cast in November.

When a candidate for Congress distinctly represents the interests of the trusts in this campaign, the people's interests are certain to be conserved by the defeat of that candidate. Martin Luther Smyser is the trust candidate for Congress in this district. The trusts all want him elected and this is the greatest reason possible why the people should want him defeated.

REBEL GENERAL PINO GUERRA.

The American Tribune in the second of its series of "Dick machine-made" editorials, inquires Saturday night, "why should not a Congressman succeed himself?" He should and will if he gets enough votes, but Martin Luther, the Dodger, will not be this time. The people are against the machines, and Smyser being owned boots and breeches by the bosses, will soon have plenty of time at his disposal to establish his standard of temperance by organizing another bribery.

It is said that the czar is virtually in exile on board his steam yacht and that he is afraid to reside in any of his palaces at the present time because of the activity of the terrorists. If so, it is only another strong reason for his doing something to satisfy his people generally and to discredit the fanatics who are seeking his life. The Russians will not be satisfied until they have a parliament possessed of real legislative power, and which will not be mere creatures of the court. Against the establishment of such a body all the forces of reaction are arrayed. Meanwhile their efforts have aroused the terrorists to action and alienated the sympathy of the people from the czar. If the latter will concede to his subjects that which they should have, he will not have to exile himself on shipboard anywhere else.

BRYAN DEFINES HIS POSITION.

In his speech at Jackson, Miss., on Saturday, Mr. Bryan defined his position on government ownership of railroads. He said:

"I no more favor government ownership of the railroads," declared the speaker, "than does President Roosevelt, whose utterances on that subject are still in the minds of all. I noted that Mr. Fairbanks, in his Chicago address, stated that the passage of the railroad rate law was simply the beginning. What the vice president meant to say is more open to misconstruction than my own statement."

"I am not defending my original statement on that question or apologizing for anything I said and will reiterate here, that unless the law against the railroads be enforced, unless they are eliminated from politics, placed in a position where they can no longer corrupt legislation, joint government and state ownership will be the ultimate result. But the railroads will force the issue, not the people."

WANTS WAR

Declared on Abdul Hamid For His Treatment of Christians.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 23.—Bishop C. C. McCabe, who is presiding over the sessions in progress here of the Detroit M. E. conference, in a sermon at the First M. E. church on "Religious Liberty" said that he would like to see war declared against the Sultan of Turkey. He told of the persecution and outrages practiced on Christians in Turkey and of the ill treatment accorded Jews in Russia, and then caused almost general applause by saying: "We as a nation are for peace. We don't want any more war. I am as a general thing opposed to war, but I would like to see one more war, one against the Sultan of Turkey, and I would like to participate in it. I would like to see Dewey with a good fleet sail up the straits of Bosphorus. We don't want any more such rulers as the Sultan of Turkey and the Czar of Russia. In every case in history we find God has raised great leaders at proper times, and we need have no fear about the future of Russia."

PROMINENT MEMBERS OF MONOPOLY LODGE CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS.

Led by their big "policeman"—the International Policyholders' Committee—the policyholders in the New York and Mutual Life Insurance Companies have caught the "ring" with the goods. With their votes as club, they mean to drive out these corrupt leaders and put in their places men of tried integrity. The fight between policy holders and the "ring" in the Mutual and New York Life Insurance Companies is now at its height with odds largely in favor of the former. No effort is being spared by the policyholders in their movement to obtain control of their rights which have been long juggled by the ringsters.

LOVE AFFAIR

Of Married Woman and Infatuated Boy Ends in Tragedy.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—The bodies of Mrs. Mary Williams, 40, and Samuel Jones, 18, residents of this city, were found lying on a bed at the Hotel St. James here. Death was due to asphyxiation. Police officers think it was a love affair and premeditated suicide. This theory, it is said, is substantiated by letters found on the body of the young man. The proprietor of the hotel after bursting open the door found the gas jet turned on in full force and transom and windows tightly closed.

The two registered at the hotel under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Jones. The woman leaves a husband and two grown daughters. The husband expressed great surprise when informed of his wife's death. The parents of the young man, while admitting that they were aware that he was acquainted with the woman, denied knowledge of any attachment between them.

ICE MAILED TO ROOSEVELT.

Somebody in Baltimore mailed a ten pound chunk of ice to President Roosevelt and because it melted before it could be gotten out of the Baltimore postoffice, Postmaster Harris, of that city, has taken pains to send a formal letter of explanation to the executive office as to why only the empty package was received, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald.

Many curious things have been mailed to President Roosevelt, but there is no record that any one ever before attempted to get a block of ice to him in that way.

In his letter to the White House Postmaster Harris explains that on September 13 at 8:45 a. m. one of his collectors of mail found a package on top of a letter box. The collector was astonished to find that the package, which was addressed to President Roosevelt, contained about 10 pounds of rapidly melting ice, and bore eight one cent stamps to forward it to Washington. The melting quickly brought the package within weight, and made the eight cents postage adequate. As no train was due to start for Washington at once it was found impossible to get the ice out of the city before it melted. All Postmaster Harris could do, therefore, he seriously states, was to send the empty package.

Answer of Charles Rider.

In the case of Albert A. Stasel vs. John M. Swartz and others, Charles Rider, one of the defendants, has filed his answer. He says that it is not true that he is indebted to John M. Swartz in the sum of $1500. He says that on August 17, 1901, he gave Swartz his promissory note for $800, but that the note is claimed by the estate of John W. Lake, deceased, that on September 23, 1903, he gave to the Peoples National Bank his note for $100, but that the note is claimed by the bank; that it is not true that he is indebted to Swartz $173.47. The defendant asks that administratrix of the estate of J. W. Lake deceased, and the Franklin National Bank be made parties, and that the injunction be dissolved; that the amount due on the two promissory notes be ordered paid into court to await the court's further orders, and that the residue in the hands of the executors be paid to him, and he prays for all proper relief. Auto Flirtation the Latest Society Fad

THE latest fad in high society is automobile flirtation. What such flirtation is and how it is conducted I have discovered at great personal danger while disguised as a chauffeur and accompanying a high society queen on one of her flirtations expeditions. Here is the "language":
Dashing against stone wall—Meet me at the hospital tonight.
Letting your machine be run into—You've made a hit with me.
Running over dog—I think you're perfectly killing.
Dashing off bridge—You can send me your message by Dr. Blank.
Running into store window—Forgive me. I'm all broken up about it.
Violating speed ordinance—You can have me if you can catch me, but you'll have to go some—Lippincott's Magazine.

Jack McCarty Waives Right to Preliminary Examination in Mayor McCleery's Court.

A drunken assault on Mrs. Altha Reynolds, wife of Anthony Reynolds, both being members of the local Salvation Army, was aired in police court Monday morning. A man giving his name as Jack McCarty was locked up for the assault and the story told is at least very revolting.

McCarty stood in front of Dennis George's saloon and swore at every one passing along the street. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds approached. Mr. Reynolds carrying a basket filled with groceries. McCarty uttered an oath about Mr. Reynolds and the latter put his basket on the sidewalk to argue the question with the intoxicated man.

Before any further move was made, McCarty struck Mrs. Reynolds in the face, blacking her eye. Reynolds then proceeded to inflict the proper punishment upon McCarty and when the smoke of the battle cleared away, McCarty was much the worse. In police court he was charged with assault and battery and pleaded not guilty. He waived his right to an examination and was held to the probate court under a $50 bond.

A number of other drunks and Saturday night disorderlies were disposed of the victims being assessed the usual fines and stone pile sentences.

MRS. VAN SICKLE ASKS FOR ALIMONY

SAYS HER HUSBAND THOUGH HE IS RICH REFUSES HER A NUISANCE.

Adjudged Insane—Business of Day in Judge Seward's Court—Realty Transfer—Notes.

Melissa Van Sickle has filed a petition in the Probate court asking alimony from her husband, John T. Van Sickle.

The parties were married March 25, 1884. Plaintiff says that she is an invalid, suffering with an aggravated form of cancer. She says that defendant refuses to permit her to have the services of a competent person to take care of her; that he constantly upbraids her by calling her bad names; that he is unkind in manner and speech and refuses to provide her with such necessities as her condition requires. She charges that he prohibits visits of her family from visiting her. Her home, upon which she relies for comfort, she says that her husband is rich and is able to provide her with all the wants and comforts which her condition requires, that he is the owner of 500 acres of land in P. county, worth about $75,000, and that he is the owner of 100 head of cattle and other stock and personal property worth six or eight thousand dollars.

Plaintiff prays for pending this action she be allowed reasonable alimony to enable her to prosecute the action and to maintain herself, and asks that she be granted a permanent alimony at the final hearing.

The last appearance of the Akron ball team for the season of 1906 was celebrated by one of the finest games of the season, Pitchers Stoupe and Ehman, two of the best in the league, going thirteen innings without a decision. Nightfall saw both pitchers delivering the goods almost as well as when the game opened, and Umpire List was compelled to call the game because it was getting too dark to see the ball.

Both teams scored in the fifth. It was seen early in the game that it was to be a pitchers' contest. In Akron's half of the fifth, East walked and Ortleib singled to right. Drake didn't get the ball any too quickly and East took third. Ortleib stole second without any effort being made to cut him off, and when Strood hit to Snyder in left, Manager Walter scored.

Captain Haval tied the score in Newark's half of the frame and it nearly took Ehman's breath away when Sam swatted the horsehide to the fence in deep left. Mathay and Nallin both went after it, but it got away from them and before they got the ball, Haval was turning second.

Mathay threw to third but the ball made a bad bound and rolled to the fence, and Haval scored. With no one out, Snodgrass and Stoupe both flied out and Davis singled. Snyder hit for two bases and Danny stopped at third. Wratten hit to first base and it looked like a fair ball from some part of the ground, but Umpire List called Wratten back and Newark's two scores didn't count and Davis and Snyder went back to third and second. Wratten's next blow went to East and he was out.

In the eighth, errors by Berryhill, Davis and Stoupe all on hard chances, flied the corners and with two out, Wartz singled, scoring one run. Wratten took a difficult chance and flied the next man, preventing any more tallies.

In the ninth Al Schweitzer, our German friend, singled and took second on Ortleib's pass. Drake fanned and Berryhill drove a long single to deep short and Schweitzer scored. Haval and Snodgrass each flied out.

That ended the score getting. In the eleventh Butler singled and was sacrificed, and Nallin got in front of a swift one which didn't bend. However, East and Ortleib were easy outs and that was the nearest Akron came to scoring after the eighth. The score:

The Emerson bunch took a heavy swat at the King Co. team in yesterday's game, winning by a score of 10 to 7. The game was closely contested throughout and was featured by heavy hitting and rather loose fielding. The big feature of the game was Phillips' triple with three on bases. Pitcher Winters, who has been making all City League players hustle for honors, though only a youngster, stole home while Pitcher Harris of the King company held the ball.

S.S.S. A CERTAIN SAFE TREATMENT
Even if mercury and potash could cure Contagious Blood Poison the condition in which these strong minerals leave the system would make the cure worse than the disease. But they cannot cure the vile disorder; they can only cover up the symptoms for awhile to break out with renewed violence when the treatment is left off. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood the entire circulation becomes poisoned and the loathsome symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, hair and eyebrows come out, glands of the neck and groin swell, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in severe cases sores and ulcers break out, and even the bones become diseased. S. S. S. is the only certain, safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison; thousands have been cured by it after failing with the mineral treatment, Hot Springs, etc. It is the only remedy that is able to get at the root of the disease and force out the poison so that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made of roots, herbs and barks, and never leaves any bad effects, but instead, tones up the stomach and digestion and builds up every part of the system while removing the poison from the blood. An Even Break.

The Newark Liquor Company's team broke even in a double header with the Rutledge team yesterday, losing the first by a score of 4 to 0, and winning the second by a score of 3 to 2 in 12 innings. In the first game Rutledge worked a new man who let the Liquor Company bunch down with two hits. Marion pitched for the Liquor Company and was hit safely only four times.

In the second game Dold and Phillips pitched against each other and the honors were about even until the 12th inning, when the Liquor Company managed to squeeze one man across the plate, winning the game.

MISS BURRELL SEES THE MAYOR

AND TELLS HIM STORY OF HER MARRIAGE TO HUBERT SERVONS.

"Last Straw" Fell Saturday Night--Peace Warrant Out But Servons Cannot Be Found.

Claiming that Hubert Servons deceived her and by misrepresentation, induced her to marry him, Rebecca Burrell of 19 South Buena Vista street, has denounced the man whom she promised to love and obey and has branded him a bigamist. The story was poured into the ears of Mayor McCleery.

The trouble between Rebecca Burrell and Hubert Servons has been brewing some time. The first seed of discord was sown when Servons whispered words of love to Miss Burrell and induced her to go to Cincinnati where they were married. This was more than a year ago. A short time afterwards, Servons got drunk, it is alleged by Miss Servons, and left home. Nearly a year afterward he returned to Miss Burrell and asked to be recognized as her husband. She had learned of his alleged deceit and refused to allow him to return to her home.

The "last straw" fell Saturday night. Since Miss Burrell learned that the man she married had been previously married, she came to the conclusion that her wedding was illegal and commenced keeping other company. Things went well until Saturday evening when she went to the Auditorium with another escort, Servons. It is alleged, came into the theatre and demanded that she come out at once or he would create a scene. He made the request several times but the woman paid no attention to him.

After the performance Miss Burrell sought police protection. She told the officers that she feared Servons would be at their home and would cause trouble, probably endangering her life as well as that of her escort. She asked that she be given protection to her home but this was denied.

She was accompanied to her Buena Vista residence, by her friend and Servons was waiting for her at the gate. Some words followed but she finally succeeded in getting into the house with her friends and left Servons on the outside. Servons, it is alleged by Miss Burrell, proceeded to make the night hideous by profanity. During his rampage it is claimed that he made numerous threats.

Her escort finally left the house and called the police. Officer Howard was secured and Servons was finally landed in jail.

He posted a bond of $15 and when police court was called Monday Servons failed to appear and his bond was forfeited. Miss Burrell appeared before Mayor McCleery Monday and told her story and later secured a peace warrant for Servons' arrest.

Miss Burrell stated that she had owned some property when Servons married her but that she squandered it and that she wanted nothing more to do with him. She merely wanted to be protected against his threats.

She said that she did not regard her marriage in Cincinnati as legal and henceforth would go by her maiden name, Rebecca Burrell, which she signed to the affidavit for the peace warrant.

She says her husband is a good mechanic and is also a baker by trade. He claimed that he was formerly a United States Secret Service detective. It is believed that Servons has left the city.

STOCK COMPANY FOR NEXT YEAR

THE NEW PLAN IS TO HAVE A LARGE NUMBER OF BUSINESS MEN AND FANS

In Company Organizing Club for Next Season--Post Season Games--Next Drafting Season.

The Newark Baseball Company was within the past week, received a number of offers for the O. P. league franchise which they now hold. It is understood that Stebbinsville is anxious to break into O. P. league next season, and it is no longer a secret that Zanesville business men have succeeded in getting the sum of $5,000 pledged for a team to represent that city in a baseball league next season.

The officers of the local club want to keep the club here next season and in all probability Newark will be in the league when the bell rings next spring. However, it is known that there is a desire among some of the stockholders to dispose of their interests on account of the losses sustained this season.

The Newark club has gone in the hole from $1500 to $2000 by the season's play. Inefficient management in the beginning of the season lost them considerable money, and it is said that the sum of $2000 was expended in trying out players who failed to make good. This sum, of course, includes salaries and railroad expenses, of all the men who were tried and found wanting.

There is a proposition to be made to the business men this week in which they will be given an opportunity to take stock in a company for next season. It is planned to have a hundred or more Newark people more or less interested in a financial way, even if each one takes a small amount of stock.

It is claimed that the company now owning the club has already selected its manager for next season in case the club remains intact. Most of the present team will be retained as a foundation for next season's club.

The O. P. season closes here today, when Lancaster plays her last game. Newark plays her last game at Mansfield next Saturday.

The past season's series of five games arranged between Akron of the O. P., and Canton of the Central league will attract considerable attention on both circuits. Canton likely will finish third in the Central, while Akron will make second place in the O. P. Canton made a brilliant fight for second, but could not land the place. These teams are considered good representatives of the two leagues and fans generally think they will demonstrate which is the faster organization. It has been claimed by O. P. constituents that their league plays better ball than the Central because a number of men who could not make good in Morton's league went to the other and did first-class work. Baseball fans will watch the result of the series with more than ordinary interest, therefore, and will draw their conclusions at its end.

What will happen to the O. P. league teams when the minors commence drafting is a question nearly every manager is asking just now. The season for major league draft does not expire until October 15, then for a full month class A teams have a chance and after that time class B As Youngstown is in class C some of the teams will be all shot to pieces before the drafting is completed. The following class A teams get next crack at the good men in the O. P. Eastern league, American association, Pacific Coast, Southern Western leagues. Then for a month the following league teams can get to the O. P. men: Connecticut, Northwestern, Three I. New England, Central, New York State. Many of the clubs in the Central, Three I and New England leagues could take O. P. clubs badly, and finish much nearer the top. There are men in the Akron, New Castle, Youngstown and Newark teams who would improve any class B organization. This is particularly true of the pitchers. Managers throughout the circuit are looking forward to the minor league drafting season with some concern.

VALPARAISO SCENES.

Queer Appearance of the City Streets From the Bay.

Valparaiso, Chile, has suffered from earthquake shocks several times and is a city whose location makes it especially liable to damage from such convulsions of nature, for it is built on hills. Rome, with its famous seven hills, is completely outclassed by Valparaiso, which has twenty. Complication has been made between San Francisco and Valparaiso in that both have suffered so severely from earthquake shocks, both have golden gates and both have a background of steep hills rising from the water in front. Behind San Francisco the hills rise brown and bleak, while behind Valparaiso they rise in brilliant green. From Valparaiso bay the streets of the city appear like rows of seats in a theater. Some of the hills are so steep that inclined passenger elevators have been installed in the streets to save walking up in the usual way. These structures

INCLINED ELEVATOR IN VALPARAISO, help to increase the unusual appearance of the city as viewed from the bay.

Valparaiso is the most important seaport of the republic of Chile and is likely to receive special benefit from the building of the Panama canal. On the completion of the canal and of the Transalpine railway it will occupy an advantageous position on the shortest route between the chief seaports of the United States and some parts of Argentina, Uruguay and southern Brazil. It is already situated favorably as to the distribution of European products, but it will then be even more favorably located for this purpose.

Lord Cadogan is known as one of the best landlords in London. When North street, Chelsea, was remodeled recently a syndicate wanted to buy his property. He said: "I will sell it, but I must insist upon your granting new leases to everyone who is in that street, so that no one is turned out for five years, and so that they will have ample notice." It made a difference of $250,000 to him.

ORPHEUM THEATRE
OPENS OCTOBER 8

NEW PLAY HOUSE TO HAVE A SEATING CAPACITY FOR 500 PEOPLE.

"The Warning Bell" at Auditorium Tonight—Nearly All Y. M. C. A. Seats Sold.

The manager of the new Orpheum theater that is being built on Fourth street, between Main and Church streets, was a caller on the Advocate Monday, and said that the new play house will be open about October 8. The Orpheum will be devoted to high class and modern vaudeville, catering to the ladies, gentlemen and little children. Nothing will be left undone to make this the popular theater and a place where any lady or child can spend the afternoon or evening. Not a thing will be said or done to offend the most fastidious. The interior is being decorated in gold and white, with seating capacity of 500 seats. Parties can have seats reserved four weeks in advance. The opening program contains some of the best and highest salaried artists in vaudeville such as "The Five Musical Lovelands," Ed C. Hays, America's premier Black face comedian, Waller and Magill in a laugh producing comedy entitled "A Postal Card," introducing America's greatest song success, "Waiting at the Church." Others on the bill are Harbach and Harris, illustrated songs and a thousand feet of the latest new life motion pictures. You can watch this daily paper for the latest developments at the Orpheum.

AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

"The Warning Bell" is the splendid attraction which is offered the patrons of the Auditorium tonight. The play is written on a pastoral line but contains many novel and startling situations and extraordinarily thrilling climaxes. The story is written around a beautiful country girl, who goes away to a boarding school, and who is led astray by the inevitable villain, whose game is to rob the rich father by working on him through her.

BROWN OF HARVARD.

Brown of Harvard will be the attraction at the Auditorium Thursday night, September 27. Among the college songs and music which will be rendered either vocally or instrumentally, at the performance, here are those quoted: "Johnny Harvard," "Down the Street," "Schneider's Band," and "The Institute," all of which are favorite musical numbers at Cambridge.

Y. M. C. A. COURSE.

Five hundred seats for the course which is opened at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday, next with Frederick Warde, have been sold. The capacity of Taylor Hall is 525. The reservation of seats will begin at 9 a. m. Friday instead of Wednesday as was previously announced.

Walter Bentley Ball, through whose efforts the great part of this course has been secured for this city, has received a call from Columbus for two lectures by Mr. Warde, who will speak in the Rev. D. E. L. Rexford's First Universalist church on Monday and Friday, next week.

Mayor's Proclamation.

Newark, O., Sept. 10, 1906.

Know all men by these presents: It is not good to be alone, even in sorrow, much less in joy; neither is it good to spend one's life in strenuous endeavor, to trot the earth over to see the good things which they can well see at home.

Therefore, I, Samuel H. McCleery, Mayor of Newark, O., do hereby and hereon endorse the free and unlimited attendance at the Licking County Fair, October 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

It will give friends far apart an opportunity to visit without incurring a social obligation. Friends who live close together should be there and quarrel over their line or their respective chickens.

In making this proclamation, I do so in interest of that ever engaging industry—matrimony. By all means that the young men with the little sore pacer, come with his girl and forbid him not for of such is the 94 per cent of the county fair.

The fellow who killed 28 squirrels in one afternoon in 1849 in the Mulberry tree where the amphitheatre now stands, will be given another chance; time will be given to him to make his peace with the powers before he joins Munchausen.

Let the scholar, the dreamer, the romantic commune with the shades of the departed race who erected the Old Fort. Let them gaze on the mighty works still standing after lapse of unnumbered ages.

Let him look and think and think and look while the small boy foundered himself with red lemonade and roasted peanuts or droned a fishing worm down the back of the nervous lady with ringlets.

Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of September, 1906, and the absence of a Notary Public, a Justice of the Peace or any other competent person.

(Signed) SAMUEL H. MCCLEERY, Mayor of the City of Newark.

MR. L. S. CHADWICK
DIES SUDDENLY

DROPS DEAD WHILE CALLING AT POSTOFFICE FOR MAIL MONDAY MORNING.

Funeral Will Take Place at Alexandria Probably on Wednesday, September 26.

Alexandria, O., Sept. 24.—L. S. Chadwick, one of Alexandria's most prominent citizens, dropped dead in the village postoffice shortly before noon Monday. Mr. Chadwick has resided in this place and vicinity for all of the 66 years of his life, and his sudden death was a decided shock to the entire community.

Mr. Chadwick appeared in his usual health all day Sunday and up until night when he complained of feeling ill, although not particularly bad. He complained of distress in his stomach, but thought little of it. Monday morning after the arrival of the 10 o'clock mail, Mr. Chadwick walked to the postoffice. An instant after he stepped through the door he addressed the postmaster, saying, "Bring me a chair; I'm not feeling right." These were the last words spoken, death following almost instantly.

The deceased leaves a wife and two children, a daughter, Miss Lorena, at home, and a son, Ira Chadwick, in Columbus. There also remains a sister in the east. The funeral will probably be held from the late residence Wednesday.

Mr. Chadwick was one of the best known men in this section of the county. For years he was a newspaper correspondent, and he conducted the Alexandria page in the Johnstown Independent.

During 1905 there were wrecked, burned and foundered at sea 297 steam vessels, of a net aggregate tonnage of 253,611, and 296 sailing vessels of 214,900 tons.

CAMPAIGN IN OHIO IS NOW ON

POLITICAL COMMITTEES PREPARE SPEAKING PROGRAM IN THIS STATE.

Bryan, Shaw and Cannon Among the Spellbinders to be Brought Into State Campaign.

Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—Although scarcely apparent to the naked eye of the masses, the Ohio political campaign is in full swing. The Democratic and Republican campaign committees have opened headquarters and are organizing for the hustings.

S. A. Hoskins, head of the Democratic ticket, who is prosecuting attorney of Auglaize county, was busy with work before a new grand jury, but managed to work in some campaign engagements the latter part of the week. He also put out an interview setting forth his opinions on state issues. The big card of the Democratic campaign will be the Bryan tour of the state in October, to last two days and cover as many points in the state as possible. The Bryan

FREEMAN T. EAGLESON, Speaker Pro Tem of House.

Itinerary is not yet fully settled, but the Nebraska will be swung through the close congressional districts, where he can discuss national issues in the hope of recovering some of the districts that slipped into the Republican column two years ago. Governor Folk of Missouri is also being considered for a few speeches. Mr. Hoskins, of course, will take the lead of home talent in the speaking campaign.

Chairman Dick of the Republican committee gathered his old staff about him for work at headquarters. He will invite all the members of the president's cabinet and all Republican governors to come to Ohio, and he expects to get enough responses to grant the request of every city that asks for a visiting orator. Secretary Shaw is booked for a speech at Columbus Oct. 3, and he is to be followed later on by Speaker Cannon. Governor Harris is ready to go on the stump, and there are enough calls for him to use all the time he can give.

Carnie A. Thompson, head of the Republican ticket, was at headquarters to meet Republicans from various sections of the state and to map out his campaign work. He will canvass the state, and managed to get in a few dates the latter part of the week.

Senator Fowler will do as much campaigning as his health will permit in separate speeches, but he will not likely attempt a continuous tour. Senator Dick is also going out into the field to make speeches. He will not tour the state, but fill such dates as he can where he may be needed to fill a vacancy or where an urgent invitation comes from a local committee.

All of which goes to show that there will be no lack of campaign oratory on either side. The Democrats will make local issues paramount and the Republicans will dwell chiefly on national issues, but both sides will be obliged to give attention to both national and local questions on account of the very nature of the campaign, for there are the congressional to look after, besides the state ticket.

Chairman Dick of the Republican committee says the Republicans will dodge no issue. "We are perfectly willing to discuss state issues, and issues of any kind, and will meet any that may be raised," he said, "but I am not certain how an issue is to be made out of the administration of state affairs. Governor Patterson's administration was very brief and so is that of Governor Harris, who has not made any new departure in executive policy."

Secretary W. L. Finley of the Democratic committee says there will be no restrictions placed on the congressional candidates, for their campaign must deal naturally with national questions. The candidates on the state ticket will confine themselves chiefly to state issues for the committee believes that the people make the issues, that the people want to have a thorough discussion on state issues this year, and can not be forced into taking an interest in any subject about which they are not concerned.

Probably no congressional contest in Ohio will attract more attention than that to be waged in the Eleventh district. It is so long since the Republicans had anybody but General Grosvenor for a candidate in that district that the present generation can scarcely remember it. Albert Douglas of Chillicothe is a new leader in the fight on the Republican side. O. W. H. Wright, the Democratic candidate, challenged Douglas for a joint debate, and the challenge was accepted. The dates agreed on are New Lexington, Oct. 2; Pomeroy, Oct. 10; McArthur, Oct. 17; Athens, Oct. 24; Lancaster, Oct. 24. The opening speech is to occupy one hour; answering speech one hour and a quarter and the reply 15 minutes; opening and closing speeches at the first meeting to be determined by the local committees, and after that to alternate. This gives a meeting in each county of the district, except the counties in which they reside, and as both men are gifted speakers the voters of the Eleventh district will know that they are having a real live campaign if they do not finally become so engrossed in it that the state campaign will pass into eclipse.

If Speaker Thompson wins out in the campaign for secretary of state it will be necessary for him to relinquish his seat in the legislature, and with it the speakership. This contingency is creating some discussion as to what the house will do, for the legislature will have a session in 1908, and will need a presiding officer, although the present organization and committees will hold over. F. T. Eagleson of Guernsey county is speaker pro tem of the house, and will be put forward for the speakership. His chief opponent will be Representative Little of Green county.

Attorney General Ellis has been unusually occupied of late with knotty questions referred to him for counsel. He rendered an opinion to Prosecuting Attorney Miller of Portsmouth in which he holds that because of failure by the legislature to appropriate, no immediate relief can be offered weak school districts so as to enable them to pay teachers the minimum salary fixed by law, $40 a month. He suggests as a solution that school boards contract for teachers at $40 per month, with the understanding that the teacher depends for all of the $40 which the district is unable to pay upon action by the next general assembly. Under the law, the state is to render assistance to such districts as are unable to pay the $40, but through some oversight the legislature failed to provide for it.

Another opinion of considerable importance was rendered the state commission constraining the statute governing the hours of railway employees. The circuit court recently held that part of the section making 10 hours a day's work unconstitutional. The railway commission wished to know if this invalidated the remainder of the section, which provides that after a conductor, brakeman, engineer or other employe on a train has worked consecutively 15 hours, he shall not be required to continue or resume his duties until he shall have had at least eight hours rest. The attorney general holds that this part of the section is constitutional, and was not invalidated by decision on the other part.

Another opinion rendered the state railway commission holds that railroad companies may charge demurrage at their discretion when freight is shipped in carload lots, and that the statute providing that no charge in storage shall be made until after 10 days does not apply to cases where an entire car is used by the shipper. The attorney general suggests that jurisdiction of the state railway commission is under section 14 of the act creating that body. Shippers complain that the railway companies do not allow them sufficient time to unload cars, especially of coal, the period having been reduced from 96 to 48 hours. The whole subject will be taken up by the commission Oct. 17.

The state supervisor of public printing, J. W. Johnson, has inaugurated a system of competitive bidding for all contracts to furnish supplies to the state bindery. Prices and samples of goods have been called for in blanks sent out to a large number of firms throughout the country. Replies have been received in which great satisfaction is expressed over the fact that the firms are to be given an opportunity to compete for the state's business.

One of the beneficial effects of the state fire marshal office is shown by Dr. Clarence Maris, the pyrologist and statistician of that office, who collected data as to the relative cost of fire insurance in Ohio and the surrounding states. Dr. Maris finds that for the last four years the average cost of fire insurance has been in West Virginia $1.67 per $100 of property valuation on which the risks were written. In Michigan it has been $1.36, in Kentucky $1.32, in Indiana $1.25, in Pennsylvania $1.24, while in Ohio it has been only $1.17. The rate in Ohio during this period was reduced from $1.24 to $1.17.

Enrollment of students at the Ohio State university so far shows that the attendance this year will exceed all previous records. At least 2,000 students are expected. Among them are Russians and Japanese, young men from South American countries and eight full blooded Filipinos. Most of the Filipinos entered courses in engineering, and some the arts college. The foreigners banded in excellent examination papers, especially the four Russian students. The Filipinos speak our language plainly and one of them, Lorenzo Ounbia, who hails from Cavite, and has had four years of training in the public schools of Ana Arbor, Mich., made a speech at the first meeting of the freshman class which won him instant popularity and choice for one of the class leaders. He is taking a course in civil engineering.

Sunshine to Sufferers

The secret of good nature is good health. Poison is the enemy of good health and pain is the ally of poison. Rheumatic poisoning is the result of an excess of Uric Acid in the blood. This excess is introduced in food and drink. When the blood becomes glutted with Uric Acid poison nature rebels and in her endeavor to drive it out the poison is forced into the joints or the muscles—anywhere. The dull, gnawing ache and the sharp agonizing pain accompany Rheumatism in its various forms. Twisted limbs and ceaseless suffering is the penalty of those who do not treat their Rheumatism with the right remedy. For over twenty-three years has been bringing sunshine into the lives of hopeless Rheumatic cripples. It quickly stops the pain and reduces the swelling, and eventually clears the system of every particle of Rheumatic poison. WATCHED ALL NIGHT

For Arrival of Ship Bringing Back Chicago's Fugitive Banker.

New York, Sept. 24.—Awaiting the arrival of Paul O. Stensland, Chicago's fugitive banker, on the steamship Prinz Adelbert from Tangier, the Chicago representatives of the Illinois state attorney's office, Charles L. Binns and Joseph L. Klunder, with two New York and two Hoboken detective sergeants, kept vigil all night at the large office at the Battery, ready to board a fast tug the moment the Prinz Adelbert was sighted. The odorous Stensland, son of the fugitive, dissipated the fears of the Chicago officials during the night when Mr. Klunder called on him. The son said he would make no fight on extradition. He added that his only wish in the matter was to avoid all the publicity possible and agreed that the best plan was to get his father aboard a train and on the way to Chicago.

This declaration followed a letter received from Paul O. Stensland, mailed Sept. 7. The father wrote that his wish was to get back to Chicago with all speed. He advised his son not to do anything to delay the return and asked only that his son and daughter meet and greet him in New York. The daughter did not come to New York, as it would be inadvisable for the sake of her health. As the young man put it, he came here to give his father courage. The officers said no interviewers would be allowed to see Stensland on the journey to Chicago.

Arrested For Murder.

New York, Sept. 23.—David Kaltman, a tailor, charged with having stabbed Samuel Alexander to death with a pair of shears last Thursday, was found concealed in a stable and arrested. Kaltman, who is said to have once had a fashionable trade in Chicago, married Tillie Cohen in that city Oct. 14, 1900. Later they removed to Baltimore, and two years ago came here, where they separated. Recently Mrs. Kaltman acted as housekeeper in the murdered man's home.

TOLEDO'S INJUNCTION CASE AGAIN STIRS UP THE CITY

Walter Brown's Success in Renominating Circuit Court
Judge Renews Interest in Questions Now Pending
Before the Supreme Court.

Toledo, Sept. 24.—The nomination of Circuit Judge Waldman for re-election has revived renewed interest in the Toledo injunction case in the filtration contract. Walter Brown, bass politician, lobbyist and corporation lawyer, has been alleged to have too much power with the Circuit court bench, causing the Common Pleas court to be reversed in the notorious ice trust case and the filtration injunction case. Brown has been a leading attorney in both cases on the side of the ice trust and the filtration contractors. The latter case is in the Supreme court and two important issues are involved. The people have depended upon relief from their dilemma by the State's highest court ever since the Circuit court reversed the Common Pleas court. The Common Pleas decision relieved the city of an odious contract. It was enjoined on the ground of illegality, but it is known to be a notorious case of graft.

WOMEN'S IDEAS TRULY EXPRESSED

Women who desire distinctiveness in their dress, should read this article carefully.

Meyer & Lindorf have paved the way for you nobly.

They fully realize the disadvantages which have heretofore prevailed.

They know that women who possess exclusive taste in fine Tailored Suits have been subjected to the inconvenience of additional expense and unsatisfactory results endeavoring to obtain custom tailoring.

In order to fulfill the growing demand for fine man-tailored suits, they have searched the country for the best talent to be procured.

After prolonged efforts, they were fortunate in securing from Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. William Schenk—a tailor who stands without a peer in the art of making high-grade man-tailored suits for women.

For years, Mr. Schenk has been sample maker for one of the greatest suit makers in the country.

Every bit of his work is done according to the dictates of skill and experience.

Every garment created represents the highest type of artistic tailoring. Here you find a tailor who is wholly devoted to that class of wearing apparel in which the most critical women find their ideas and tastes expressed.

May we demonstrate it to you?

Our tailor would be pleased to have you call and examine his work. He will show you the newest styles in leading fashion. And any information which you may desire will be cheerfully given.

"Money's No Account Until Used" is a proverb often quoted, but it does not lessen the foolishness of throwing it away, especially when there is one thing that is sure to come—old age, and that, without a cent, and then what bitter thoughts arise when we find ourselves a dependent.

The only time to do anything is NOW—the great glorious NOW—when all things are going our way, with money plentiful and hopes high, then is when we should commence to save.

Let us help you to be independent.

candidate before a primary and the Colonel never tired of telling how he made the acquaintance of the gentleman of the cloth. "I was walking down to the polls," he said, "when I came up to this stranger. He says to me: 'Good sir, I'm a newcomer to your bustling town. I have always felt it to be my duty to interest myself in the political affairs of the community in which my lines have been cast. I am the new minister of the (naming the church), and am on my way to the primaries. I understand there is a candidate named Ike Hill who is unregenerate, a gambler, liberal in every sense, and in every way unfitted to receive the suffrages of a sovereign people. What do you know about him?'"

"I didn't waste no words, but said to this immaculate gentleman: 'Sir, I am the identical son of a pirate,' or words to that effect."

For years no political convention in Licking county, or in Newark, was complete without Hill. He took a hand in state politics too and was for years State Central Committeeman in the Seventeenth Ohio district for the Democrats.

Hill had a keen sense of perception and a decidedly unique method of expression. He was ever ready with a political prediction and when things didn't come his way, which they often didn't, he was quite as handy with an excuse.

The Colonel, everybody up in Licking county called Hill "Colonel," was fond of guessing on political results and he was ever ready to back his opinions with the cash.

PEACE TALK

ment is expressed on every side because of the likelihood of peace being brought about without armed intervention by the United States. That the differences of opposing factions could be reconciled was not generally believed to be possible until it was announced that the Liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to represent them before the mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves, and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring forcible intervention and possibly annexation.

Secretary Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace can not last unless it is enforced by the United States army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the republic another chance and believes that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than required to supervise the laying down of arms. He said that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith.

The nearest insurgent camp, near La Lisa, just west of Mariano, was visited by great crowds of people from Havana. Encouraged by the reports that peace was imminent, the people for the first time dared to gratify their curiosity and to show their sympathy with the revolutionary cause. Although it was raining, this did not dampen the ardor of those who wished to visit the insurgents.

It is feared the effect of this enthusiasm may be bad in the event that peace terms require the rebels to make decided concessions. In the rebel camps are thousands of negroes to whom revolutionary life is easy and interesting as compared with labor on plantations. Some of the more refined officers, however, admit that they would not be sorry to return to their homes.

Despite the armistice in effect, a clash between government troops and Pino Guerra's force was threatened Sunday. General Avalos with 400 cavalry and 300 infantry arrived at Guanajay, having come by train from Pinar Del Rio to Artemesa, prepared to proceed to Camp Columbia, near Havana. This meant passing through the rebel camps. General Guerra sent a message to General Avalos that this might lead to an encounter and that he would not be responsible for the outcome. General Avalos declared his intention to continue the march, but General Rodriguez, by direction of Secretary Taft, ordered him to take his force to Mariel, which was done.

HELENA IS SAFE.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The navy department received an official dispatch this morning announcing the arrival of the Helena at Shanghai. It reads: "Helena arrived Shanghai All well on board." The department is at a loss to account for the press report from Shanghai stating that the vessel had been destroyed with all on board. She left Cavite September 13, and was somewhat delayed by the stress of weather.

MUST RESPECT UNIFORM.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 24.—President Roosevelt is determined that the uniform of the United States shall be respected whether worn by an admiral general or enlisted man. Just to prove that he is in earnest he has sent a check for $100 to Admiral Thomas at Narragansett Pier to be used in prosecuting a dance hall proprietor who refused admission to a lady because of his navy blue uniform.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

Some of the British police wear straw helmets in the summer.

At Fulbourn, England, the poor receive sixpence each for regular church attendance.

The Bank of England employs about 1,000 people, paying $250,000 yearly in wages and $35,000 yearly in pensions. Gramophones are used in English theaters to give "stage shouts," thus saving expense and insuring volume of sound.

Worcester, England, has refused to give the government a site for a cavalry barracks, though one of the city councilmen used a strong argument. He urged that the presence of 1,500 soldiers in town would end the prevailing scarcity there of female domestic servants.

For lilies of the valley a year in Carmarthen draws $2,000 a year from a London dealer, while an aged woman in Berkshire is said to make near $5,000 out of Mavechal Niel roses.

In Russia an extensive domestic industry consists of the manufacture of wooden spoons, of which as many as 30,000,000 are made annually. They are nearly all of birch wood.

SEARCHING FOR BODY OF ABBE DELARUE.

THE HYENA ON STERILLOCK FOLMES FROM THE SPANISH

The disappearance of the Abbe Delarue, Vicar of Chatenay, near Versailles remains a mystery. Popular opinion favors murder and argues that the missing Abbe must have been killed by tramps while cycling from Chatenay to Paris. Acting on this supposition, many have been searching for the priest's body in manner more or less bizarre. At present the greatest ingenuity in method has been shown by the Matin. That journal, knowing the hyena's habit of grubbing up bodies, hired one of those animals from Peron's menagerie and set it sniffing about the neighborhood of the supposed crime. In the hope that it would bring the body to light. The experiment failed.
